

This week we have been thinking about the sounds made during celebrations. As we had two birthdays last Friday it seemed appropriate that the celebration we focused on was birthdays! We have had great fun role playing a birthday party, starting with party poppers, a birthday tea and lots of present wrapping!

We had party games, wrapping a pass the parcel with alternating layers of tissue paper. The children were all very good at waiting their turn.

Miss Mansell brought in a cake for us, but it needed to be cut. We talked about sharing and cut the cake into equal size pieces. Finally, we have started to make a pretend cake by covering an old cake tin with Modroc (it's like a plaster of paris bandage). When it's dry we will decorate it and use it as part of our regular birthday routine.

Another party game was hide and seek. We decided there were more places to hide in the forest area so took the children there. They had a great time building a den too!
