

Hello Everyone,

This week we have started to learn about dinosaurs, the children are really interested in our topic and keen to learn more! We started our topic with reading a story about Dinosaurs and asking the children “Where did the dinosaurs go?” They have learnt about the dinosaurs becoming extinct and the different theories, as to how this may have happened. Thank you to those children who have brought in books and stories about dinosaurs and dinosaur toys, they really add to our learning and the children love to share with others their things from home. We will be continuing our topic of dinosaurs next week with a focus on the story of Harry and his bucket full of dinosaurs. So if you have any of these stories, please can you bring them in, thank you.

On Friday 18th March we are planning to take the children to the Dinosaur for an Educational visit as part of our dinosaur topic. We will be travelling by mini bus and there will be a charge for this visit. We are lucky to be able to use the minibuses and therefore there are no transport costs, so we just need to cover the cost of each child’s entry fee. A letter with further details will follow next week.

A big thank you to the few children who returned their half term homework. We really appreciate the effort that parents go to support their child with the homework set. It would be really good to see every child bring back their homework each week. This week we have asked your child to make a dinosaur, there is a separate letter in their tray giving them some ideas of what they might like to do. It would be great to have 30 different dinosaurs arriving to school on Monday!

Another great big thank you to those parents/ grandparents and carers who came along to join us for the story café! The children had a fantastic time and really, really enjoy sharing their learning with an important grown up in their life! We are already busy thinking about and planning the next one.

Here are a few highlights of the afternoon.....

Have a good weekend,
